PROJECTS

01/09/2022 – 01/09/2023

Analysis and comparison of a multi storey Building (six stories) for the seismic responses on soil type A and soil type D using ETABS

We designed the building in ETABS, assigned all the variable values like constraints and applied loads etc for both models (Soil type A and soil type D).We then analyzed the final results and compared for seismic responses like maximum displacement, imposed shear forces and bending moments, storey drifts etc. UBC 97 code was used for this project.
